

Lessons identified notification

1. Knowledge of the system

Limited knowledge of the system, internal communication not effective

2. Contact between the daily user of SSN and the oil spill preparedness and response body in the respective country

The connection did not function as expected. Clearer rules for internal communication regarding the use of SSN are needed.

Lessons identified notification

3. Challenges because of the use of the training environment

Limited in-house training before the exercise, main reason few people in the Agency involved

4. Any other issues

Better coordination between the oil spill response body and daily user of SSN is needed.

SCOPE

2017 Skagerrak Chemical Oilspill Pollution Exercise

Request for assistance

Key Issues

1. Knowledge of the CECIS and requests for assistance process

Too few trained in the use of the CECIS system

2. Validate your country's role and ability to offer assistance. Identify best practices and challenges during this process.

The Environment Agency can offer its equipment directly when the request comes.

The Coast Guard decides whether their Vessels and/or Aircraft are available for pollution response activities at the time of the request.

The CG has other responsibilities such as in Search and Rescue and therefore the CG vessels and aircrafts can be occupied at the time of request for pollution response assistance

Request for assistance

Key Issues

3. Any challenges with the CECIS command post exercise module compared with the “original” version

Not really, however better training would be good.

General comment about the internal connections/communications in Iceland:

1. Need to sharpen the procedure of internal communication.
2. Clearer rules of procedure for all involved actors.
